PRESS KIT

Welcome to the Chronotract Press page. Here you should find any info you might need to post articles or get more informed about Chronotract. If you need any additional information posted to this page or would like anything provided in a different format, let us know and we'll make it available.

Description

Chronotract is a 3D strategy location-based game that deals with time. The object of the game is to kill as many players as possible by dragging a disk and hitting them with the disk before the timer stops. If the player kills 10 opposing players, they win a ruby; each ruby is worth one dollar. The user earns ten cents for each login. This is an opportunity to win real money that will be sent to the users' Paypal account. Players can create teams, post rankings on social media and network with other players.

Features

Get Paid

Player earns ten cents for logging in and other opportunities to earn REAL money are included. This money can be transferred to the players' PayPal account!

Unlock Ranks

The players' rank increases if they earn a certain amount of points. There are several ranks to unlock!

Collect Rubies

The player receives a ruby for eradicating 10 opposing players. Each ruby is worth one dollar.

Competitions

Since this is a competitive game, the player can send other players competition requests to compete against opposing teams.

Pregame

The player will have an opportunity to test their skills before they'll be eligible to play the main game. The player must hit flying objects and achieve a winning score within a set amount of time.
