PRESS KIT

Welcome to the Chronotract Press page. Here you should find any info you might need to post articles or get more informed about Chronotract. If you need any additional information posted to this page or would like anything provided in a different format, let us know and we'll make it available.

Description

Chronotract is a 3D strategy location-based game that deals with time. The object of the game is to kill as many players as possible by shooting a disk and hitting them with the disk before the timer stops. If the player kills 10 opposing players, they win a ruby; each ruby is worth one Bitcoin. This is an opportunity to win real money that will be sent to the users' Paypal account. Players can create teams and network with other players.
